
SUSTAINABLE GROWTH ANALYSIS

To determine what factors a country should focus on to sustain GDP/capita

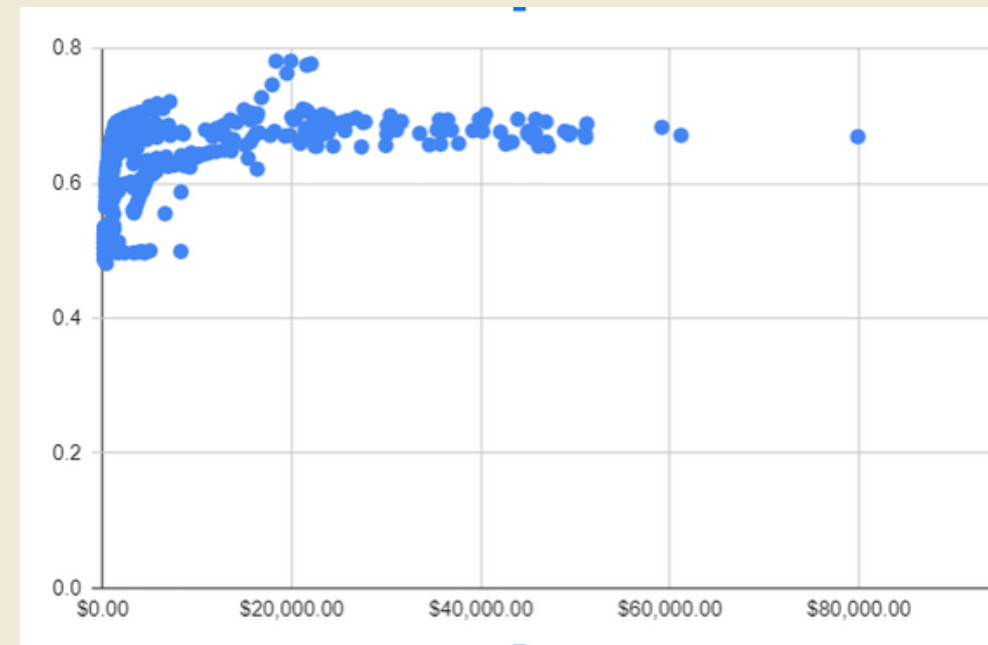

HOW A COUNTRY CAN ATTAIN SUSTAINABLE GROWTH

- Dataset having different countries, regions, years, gdp, population and other factors that might impact GDP/capita.
 - By improving GDP/capita, sustainable growth can be attained, and by improving following factors GDP/capita can be improved.
 - Invest in healthcare to improve life expectancy.
 - Focus on job creation and higher education for the working-age population(15-64)
 - Support the elderly population(65+) with pensions and healthcare.
 - Invest in urban infrastructure to grow urban population.
 - Promote tourism and improve infrastructure to attract visitors.
 - Enhance internet and mobile phone access to boost connectivity and business efficiency.
- Improve maternal and child healthcare to reduce infant mortality.
 - Simplify regulations for doing business.
 - Streamline processes to make it easier to start businesses.
 - Simplify tax procedures to reduce compliance time for businesses.
 - Evaluate and possibly reduce business taxes to encourage investment.
 - Evaluate lending interest policies for sustainable growth.
 - Optimize energy usage for efficiency.
 - Manage CO2 emissions for environmental balance.
 - Monitor birth rates for sustainable growth.
 - Manage total population growth for economic stability.
-

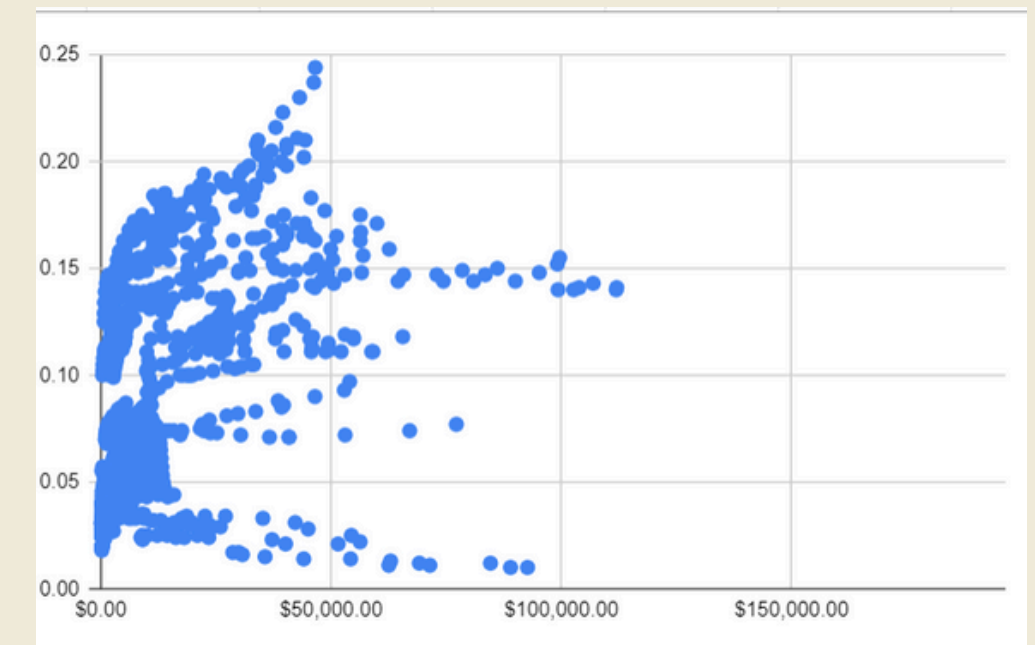

HOW A COUNTRY CAN ATTAIN SUSTAINABLE GROWTH

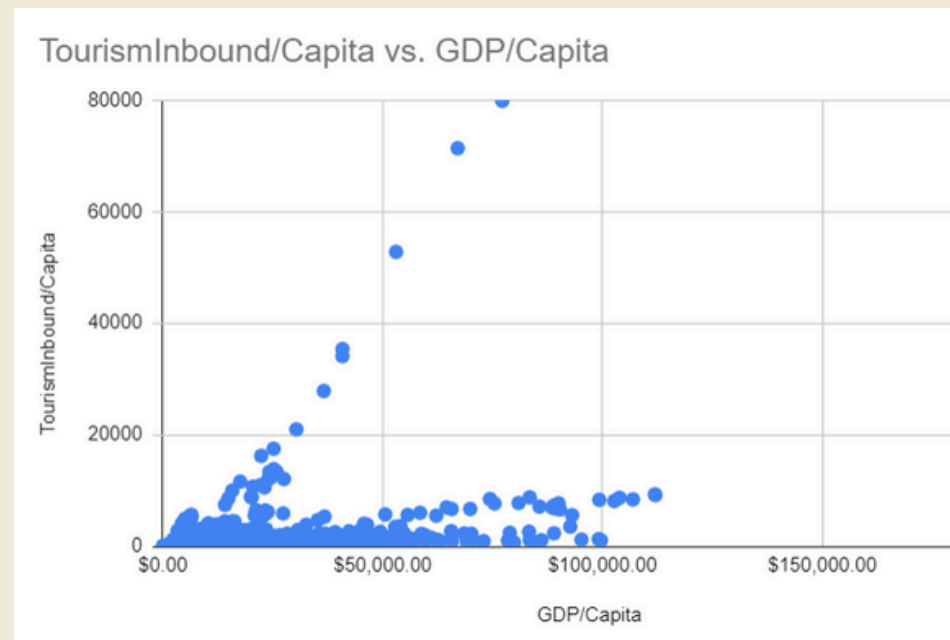

GDP/capita vs AvgLifeExpectancy

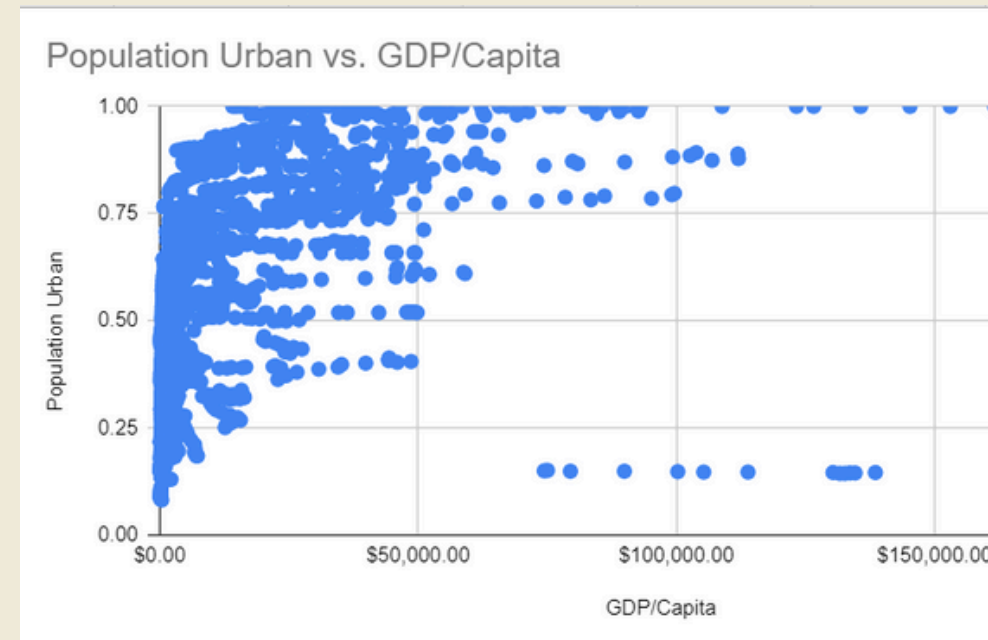

GDP/capita vs Population(15-64)

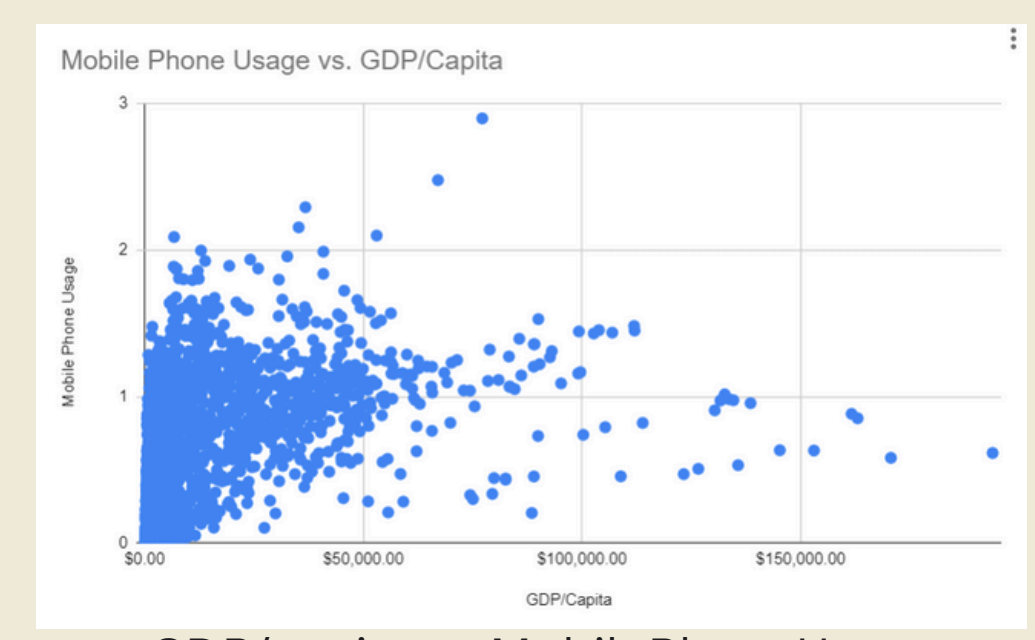

GDP/capita vs Population(65+)

GDP/capita vs TourismInboundCapita

GDP/capita vs UrbanPopulation

GDP/capita vs MobilePhoneUsage